SETH'S SERENADE.

When Seth got married we had a bee,
and he went up to his house for a shivaree.
He took drums, and some took pans,
and some took whistles, and some tin cans and some took things in the bottom and rumen to play, and they yowled like wildcats at every scrub, and the dullest noise that ever was made was the whoopeedew at Seth's serenade.
We carried something beside the noise of that little home, we girls and boys, and after the bang, and fun, and din, he gave us an invite and we went in,
and under each arm was a bundle hid—we loaded them down, that's what we did!
Pounds of this and pounds of that—bundles were big and bags were fat.
And then the squire a speech he made for the rest of the crowd at Seth's serenade.

"We're here to wish ye long life," said he,
And a way that is smooth and as straight as can be.
For every day as ye're startin' now with a smile on your face and a care-free now.
I bring ye to-night—friends Seth and May—
and of the cheer that starts any day."
And he crowned the heap—he's a knowin' man.
With a Chase & Sanborn coffee can.
And before we left we had coffee made—it was the best of the treat at Seth's serenade.
